

2025 DIGITAL SUMMIT REPORT

EVENT OVERVIEW

The Digital Summit 2025, organised by the Council of Dean of Health, was held in London on January 28th, 2025. The summit was a tremendous success, drawing a total of 130 attendees from various leadership and academic roles within the health sector.

20

Leadership and Executive roles

18

Academic Leadership

21

Heads of Schools and Departments

28

Professors and Associate professors

10

Research and Innovation

The event was proudly sponsored by Elsevier and Oxford Medical Simulation, whose support was instrumental in the summit's success.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

- Engaging Sessions: The summit featured a series of thought-provoking sessions that addressed current trends and future directions in digital health.
- Expert Speakers: Renowned experts from the sector shared their knowledge and experiences, providing valuable insights into the current challenges and opportunities.
- Networking Opportunities: The event facilitated meaningful interactions among attendees, allowing them to build connections and explore potential collaborations.

OUTCOME

Feedback from attendees was overwhelmingly positive. Participants praised the summit for its insightful sessions, engaging speakers, and the opportunity to network with peers and industry leaders.